

Chau-phone (Chauffeur Telephone)

A Telephone for Limousines or other closed automobiles

The Western Electric Chau-phone is a telephone equipment for automobiles of the Limousine and Landaulet type for communicating between the passengers and the chauffeur, and takes the place of the old-fashioned and unsanitary speaking tube.

Receiver

Transmitter

APPARATUS

The apparatus consists of a transmitter mounted on a handle and a weatherproof loud-speaking receiver fitted to a megaphone horn which can be mounted on the framework of the car near the chauffeur's ear. The receiver is so designed that it is adjustable to cars having either right or left-hand drive. Standard finish is black.

OPERATION

Orders spoken into the transmitter in an ordinary conversational tone are delivered to the chauffeur with the tone magnified—loud and clear—above the wind and the street noises, regardless of the speed at which the car is traveling. This eliminates trouble encountered with a speaking tube, as with the latter it is frequently necessary for the chauffeur to slow down the car or drive up to the curb in order to hear the spoken instructions, especially in windy or stormy weather.

INSTALLATION

The Chau-phone can be installed as readily on old as on new cars and the wires can be concealed. The regular car batteries—6 or 8 volts—will operate it, and the current required is so small as to be negligible, no current being required while not in use.

PACKING

Each Chau-phone is put up in a substantial box containing wire and everything else necessary to install it, including illustrated directions.

Method of Packing

Chau-phones are used by a large number of leading car and body builders.
